

HUNT 'SLUGGER' AFTER THREE GIRLS ARE ATTACKED IN BACK BAY

VIEWING AIR LINE TO U. S.

Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld, the German earl, seated at a table in Ireland discussing with one of his associates the miserable weather which is delaying the flight of the Junkers monoplane Bremen in the projected New York flight. The Germans are anxious to be the first to fly westward across the Atlantic.

GERMAN PLANE HOP IS CALLED OFF FOR DAY

Baldonnell Aldred, Dublin, March 28.—The Junkers monoplane Bremen, bound to the south with ropes and its wheels blocked by gummy grease cans, rocked in an Irish gale today.

Weather conditions here were all most as bad as those reported from the middle of the Atlantic and the American coast. Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld, leader of the transatlantic flight, has hoped to get off at dawn. His pilot, Capt. Herman Koehl and Arthur Spilner, were against any attempt to take off and the Irish Free State air force authorities said it would be futile to attempt to start under such conditions.

The flight was then postponed until tomorrow morning at the earliest. A steam roller lumbered up and down the long stretch of ground beyond the wooden runway, ironing that the soggy ground, so the Devon burden would not sink into the soft at the start of its venture.

The fliers held breakfast at 4 a. m. with the German consul-general and other members of the Dublin German community and made the customary trip to the airport.

Irish weather experts consider that the Atlantic weather reports are likely to delay the flight for several days at least, unless Baron von Huenefeld insists on starting.

Baron von Huenefeld paid an Irish farmer 10 pounds sterling at the far end of the Baldonnell field so that the plane will have a mile and a quarter straight away for lifting. Its big weight of three tons and 2400 liters of fuel into the air.

The monoplane has its own engine to prevent the forming of ice when the machine gets into the sea fog and mist, or rain, and the cold.

The motor has been tuned to perfection and every navigation instrument has been put to the test. The plane resembles in the hangar under guard of Junkers mechanics and Irish Free State air force.

Pacing nervously back and forth, where the runway ends, is the young German nobleman who is wearing a German student's cap and his slim figure covered by a navy blue suit. This, he says, he does not intend to take off until he reaches Mitchell Field, Long Island.

Baron Huenefeld is as superstitious as the ordinary sailor who calls the sea by names. He is so superstitious with trinkets, omens of good luck and all kinds of things. He tied the wing attempted to take moves of him.

Contrasted with the money's problems, the chucky, quiet, steady Koehl, chief pilot, watched the preparations for the Bremen's getaway almost disinterestedly. To him, flying the Atlantic isn't luck, but science and nerves.

HUB POLICE ASKED TO FIND ALBERT M'IVER

Hubton police were asked today by authorities at Monmouth, N. J., to find Albert M'iver, an ironworker who is believed to be in the city. M'iver's mother has died and will be buried tomorrow in Monmouth, Conn.

not see the attacker clearly, or that the man lives in the district and changes his clothing after each out-man.

The man is apparently not of "ordinary criminal type so that the only hope of the police is to catch him in the act."

One young man acted as a suspect in connection with the attacks was released after victims of the "slugger" failed to identify him.

To supplement the increased police force in the district, Capt. Livingston's "flying squadron," which ordinarily cruises all over the city during the night hours, will confine their attention entirely to Back Bay during the nights to come.

In addition to protection against the menace to women, merchants and residents of the district seek in criminal police to protect their homes and places of business.

POLICE BLAME "SLUGGER"
Approached from behind, three young women were attacked in the Back Bay district Monday night. It has become known. None of the women was seriously injured, although one was struck over the head with a blunt instrument and knocked to the ground.

Police believe all three attacks may have been the work of a "slugger" following a long series of breaks, the attacks caused concern in the Back Bay and among police officials, although Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson stated that there is no more crime now than existed at this season a year ago.

Miss Joan C. Scully, 25, of 111 Jersey st., Back Bay, while walking at Pavilion and Jersey sts., near her home, at 9:48, Monday night, was approached from behind by a man who struck her. She screamed and ran away.

At the Back Bay station she described her assailant as 32, five feet six inches tall, 140 pounds, reddish complexion, wearing a dark coat and a cap.

DESCRIPTIONS DIFFER
About 30 minutes later Miss Frances Primaries of 23 Ivy st., stated through an alias in the rear of 14 Ivy st., which she often uses as a short cut to her home. She had gone about half way through when she heard a noise behind her. As she turned to see what it was she was struck on the head with a blunt instrument.

She gave the police a description very different from that of Miss Scully's assailant, but it is believed that both women were the work of the same man.

The third attack occurred in the Public Garden shortly after 11 o'clock. A young woman engaged in night work, walking through down her way home, realized she was being followed by a man.

craypales and the face was swollen, the hospital officials explained, this being the mistake by the Brockton man's family. The hospital mistake was due to the improper filing of pictures when the men were first admitted.

Another strange feature of the case, according to hospital officials, was that the Brockton man's wife, Mrs. Margaret Murphy, visited the hospital shortly before the Brockton man's death, at that occasion did not discover that she was taken to the bedside of the young Murphy.

MONTREAL TRAIN TO HUB IS HELD UP BY WRECK

Montreal, Vt., March 29 (AP)—The train known as the Boston Sleeper, due here at 6:30 a. m., was delayed more than four hours when two cars of a freight train jumped the track early today at Wells River, until the wreck had been cleared.

fact that investigation of a colleague was underway and they verified also that the $200 payment was involved. A meeting of the joint rules committee of the Legislature was scheduled to be held today, but Speaker Hull would not state whether a meeting of the House rules committee would be held afterward to take up the matter of the member's alleged dereliction.

RESIGNATION READ

The second surprise of the day on Beacon Hill came when Speaker Hull, rising directly after opening of the House session with prayer, declared that he held a document that the clerk would read. The clerk intoned the following:

"Hon. John C. Hull, Speaker, House of Representatives, State House, Boston, Mass.: Dear Sir—I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the House of Representatives from the 15th Suffolk District. I desire this to go into effect at once." (Signed) Francis X. Coyne."

Following the reading, Speaker Hull announced that the communication would be placed on file. This is equivalent to automatic acceptance.

A short time later, Speaker Hull released to newspaper men a statement that he said Coyne had given him to be handed out after the resignation was read. This statement added:

"I have today tendered to the Speaker my resignation as a member of the House. My reasons for doing so are that I have accepted a responsible position in Detroit and am starting on my new duties at once." (Signed) Francis X. Coyne."

Then came word to the State House that a divorce suit had been filed against Coyne several days ago. The papers were impounded at time of filing and were thus screened from public view.

Coyne, according to the papers, first entered his own name to defend the suit, but on March 12 an answer was entered for John M. Russell to defend him.

Coyne is 35 years old. He was first elected to the Legislature from Dorchester in 1921.

FAVORS BILL FOR BANK EMPLOYEES INVESTING
A favorable report on the recommendation of Bank Commissioner Roy A. Hovey to allow officers, directors, employees or attorneys of trust companies to share in commissions, profits and other benefits derived by any firm in which they are interested if such dealings are approved by the stockholders' vote of the trust company, was today made by the legislative committee on banks and banking. An adverse report was made on the Governor "blue sky" recommendation to "clarify the teeth of the law to prevent credulous investors from being defrauded by unscrupulous promoters."

DIVORCED IN 24 HOURS

BY MEXICAN DECREE
Mrs. Paul Berlenbach, wife of former light-heavyweight champion, suddenly finds herself without a husband, Paul having spent nearly a whole day getting a decree in Morelos.

Mexico City, March 29 (AP)—Paul Berlenbach, American pugilist, on his way to Laredo from Mexico City and thence to New York, has in his pocket a document which he and an American named H. E. Grace describe as a divorce decree signed by the Governor of the State of Morelos.

Berlenbach spent several hours in Morelos yesterday, and, altogether, his "wedding" in the Republic of Mexico took 14 hours.

Grace has lived in Mexico City for more than 10 years and specializes in obtaining divorces under the law of Morelos.

VANDERBILT'S FLYING BOAT DESTROYED IN FIRE
Port Washington, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—Harcort Vanderbilt's luxurious flying boat, valued at $20,000, was destroyed in a fire which swept the Vanderbilt hangar and the headquarters of the Purdy Boat Corporation last night.

More than a dozen speed boats, belonging to wealthy persons and stored for the winter in the Purdy boathouse, also were destroyed. The total loss was estimated at $20,000.

STUDENTS WHO QUIT CLARK SEEK RUGG'S AID
Worcester, March 29 (AP)—Calling upon Chief Justice Arthur F. Rugg of the Massachusetts Supreme Court as trustee of Clark University to investigate the acts of President Atwood, the three recently resigned seniors of the University today continued their attack upon Atwood's administration at the Worcester college.

In a letter signed by George Gromdahl, Jacob Fredenburg and Seymour Rozin, Chief Justice Rugg is asked to investigate the facts leading up to the resignation of the three students in the effort to establish that "this is a clash between the elementary principles of honesty and dishonesty."

EXPECT ADVERSE REPORT ON SOLON COUNSEL BILL
A partial poll of the legislative joint committee on rules and a bill based on the recommendations of Governor Talbot, to prohibit legislators from acting as counsel before legislative bodies, recently introduced, indicated that an adverse report will be made.

As far as could be learned, four of the seven senators were in favor, but that all House members polled, but two were against the bill. There are 12 House members.

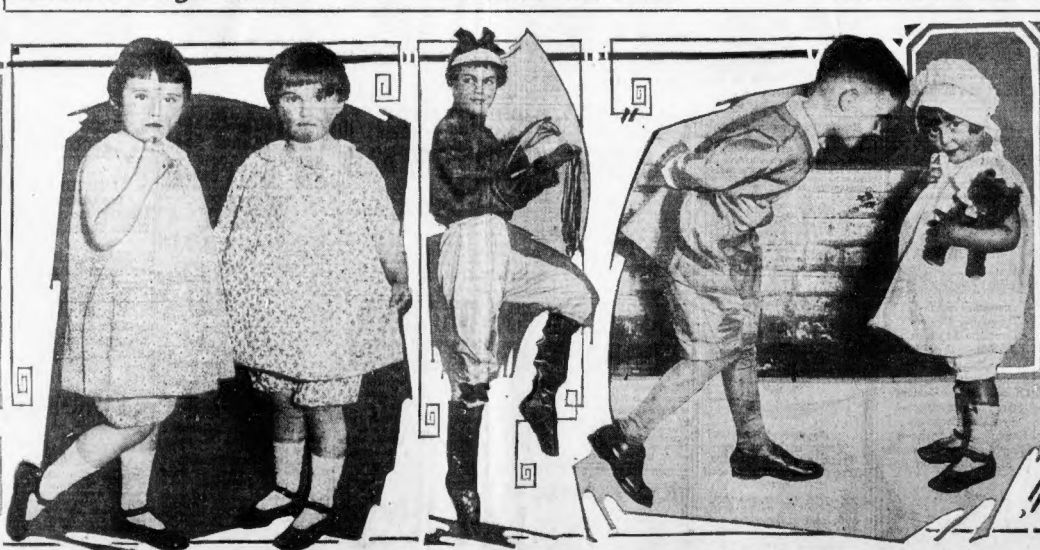

Draws 13 Hearts at Bridge and Scores 824 Points
New York, March 29 (INS)—Playing bridge with friends, Mrs. W. W. Webb of Flushing drew 13 hearts. This, she said, is equivalent to a hole in one in golf. Or it should be.

The dealer, Edwin Weeks, did not mind Mrs. Webb's hand four hearts. Mrs. Webb's husband doubled. Herbert Weeks, her partner, redoubled. Her total was 824 points. She had a grand slam, 100 for honors, 100 for contract and 500 for extra.

BEIDERWOLF IN PLEA FOR CURB ON WEDDINGS

The world should protect itself by enacting laws forbidding marriages of the wealthy and physically unfit, President W. E. Beiderwolf declared today at Park St. Church.

"We spend millions in perfecting breeds of cattle, horses and dogs, at the human animal is allowed to perpetrate every brutal strain that we come down to us through the centuries," he said.

"This heritage is an appalling one, filling our hospitals and insane asylums, filling the world with physical suffering and mental woes. It's tortures of body and soul to be part where this has become one of the great problems of our time, a problem that must be solved and solved right if civilization is to survive."

"No man should be allowed to marry who cannot show a physical certificate of health. We owe as much to our daughters and to our race. God has established certain laws in this world, and much disease, both physical and mental, comes to us through the breaking of those laws."

"My religion cannot reach the moral level, then, without restraint must step in. No individual has a right to marry until he is fit to bring up a child or your child, or even to his own child."

SOBS AS SHE PLEADS FOR 'A BREAK'

With tears streaming down her face, a middle-aged woman pleaded for "a break" in a New York court room today, while Inspector James Claffin of the Boston police department prepared to offer testimony which may establish her guilt as an offender of the Baume & Mercier law and send her to prison for life.

Court records showed that the woman, giving the name of May English, is the first of her sex to go on trial as a fourth offender under the Baume law but with a life-term hanging over her graying head and steadily refused to tell her real name.

Details of her past are hidden from the eyes of the world, but New York police believe that she is a member of a respected family and at one time was the owner of a string of race horses.

The testimony of Inspector Claffin, however, may throw some light on the woman's history, his testimony is necessary to piece out that given by Former Inspector William Pitt of Boston that she is the same woman who was convicted here.

Clutching the rail of the prisoner's cage, the woman told the court of her desire to "get a break" and begin life over again.

"I refuse to tell my real name," she said. "Neither will I talk about my children. My faith in God upholds me. God made me a sinner. Perhaps it is to fulfill God's divine way. A doctor has offered me a job. If I go to jail I cannot study and improve my education."

"I used to be depressed when I got into trouble, but I read how the greatest man was crucified and how many great men and women have suffered."

The prosecution asked for an adjournment to await two witnesses, a former fingerprint expert of New Jersey, and Inspector Claffin.

The prisoner has two and a half years in Auburn prison for grand larceny, and was convicted in New York last December by a jury for picking $44 from a woman shopper's pocketbook.

'I'M A PLUCKED PICKER'

FACES LIFE TERM AS OLD OFFENDER

May English, 47, on trial in New York as an old offender, declared: "God never gave me an even chance." She's a confirmed pickpocket, police say. If convicted life in prison must be the penalty.

$37,582 UPTON TAX VERDICT SET ASIDE

A direct verdict for $37,582 granted the executors of the estate of the late King Upton of Marblehead against the U. S. collector of internal revenue, in the Federal District Court, was set aside today by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The higher court's decision, was a majority one. In dissenting, Judge George W. Anderson declared he found no evidence to support an inference that gifts of stock made by Upton to his wife, shortly before his death, were fraudulent for the purpose of evading taxes.

Upton, who died in 1927, was president of the American Gas Co. and the stock in question consisted of shares of this concern and the National Gas Co.

The majority of the court ruled that there were sufficient grounds to admit a reasonable inference that the gifts were not a sham and a subterfuge devised to escape payment of internal revenue.

Judge Anderson declared that he could not criticize distribution of property by Upton for such a purpose, the motive being "almost universal" and not necessarily fraudulent.

The case, originally tried in January, 1927, before Judge James A. Lowell, now goes back to the federal district court for another trial and a jury verdict.

SENCE GIRL IN COAT THEFT

When the sentence was announced, Cornwall created quite a commotion by rushing from the rear of the courtroom to his wife's side and demanding that she appeal. The girl did so and was held in $200 on each count.

Her father and mother furnished bail.

Special Officer "Worster," who presented the complaining, told the court that the Cornwall girl took a fur coat on March 22 from the lockers of Ross Goodman of 10 Helen st., and later sold it downtown for $25.

The next day, he said, Rosella stole the coat of Frances Kraft, of 44 Hazen st., the garment being recovered in the Cornwall home. The coats were valued at $350 each.

The judge said Rosella if she had anything to say regarding disposition of the case, after she had pleaded guilty, and the girl replied she would like to call her father.

The elder Cornwall then told Judge Churchill that several years ago Rosella got into bad company and had caused him and his wife considerable trouble.

He said he visited a clergyman last night and displayed an envelope which he said contained a recommendation that Rosella be admitted to the House of Good Shepherd. He for that reason asked for a suspended sentence.

Judge Churchill then wrote out his finding and handed it to Clerk Simmons, who read it aloud. It contained a straight referral to the House of Good Shepherd and said nothing about suspension.

CAPT. KNIGHT TO LECTURE IN HUB ON LIFE OF EAGLES

The human face is enough to frighten a bird into hysteria.

That is no reflection upon the phenomenon of a man, but a natural result of Nature's faithful creation.

Capt. C. W. R. Knight, famous English ornithologist and naturalist, pointed out upon his arrival in Boston today.

Capt. Knight will show some motion pictures of eagle life at a lecture to be delivered at Hotel Statler tonight under auspices of the Girls' City Council.

"Billie," his trained falcon, did not accompany the naturalist on the trip to Boston. When Capt. Knight left New York, "Billie" was sojourning in Central Park, having been unleased by a mischievous elderly couple, who thought he would not be held captive. Two Boy Scouts recovered the bird early today.

MANSLIGHT TO ASSIST U. S. IN BOSCH SUIT

Philly Mansfield, Boston attorney, was today appointed a special assistant attorney-general of the United States by Attorney General Clegg to aid in the prosecution of the government in the so-called Bosch suit now in progress in Federal Court before Special Master Arthur B. Bache.

The new appointee is son of E. Barker Mansfield, deceased, former Belgian consul at Boston, and a member of the class of '94 at Harvard.

Girl Dietitian May Rob Aviatrix of Atlantic Honor

London, March 29 (INS)—The honor of being the first woman to fly across the Atlantic may go not to an aviatrix, but to a dietary expert—in the eligible route.

Miss M. B. Sutton, daughter of a government official of Norfolk County, has been appointed a member of the crew of the R101, the huge dirigible which is scheduled to fly to the United States in September.

The aircraft is now under construction. It is larger than the Los Angeles.

Miss Sutton will have charge of the commissary department of the aircraft.

ing at 7:37 o'clock only one message has been dropped by the fliers. This was secured around midnight. "All is well."

They are driving toward an estimated goal of 55 hours in the air—which would more than shatter the record, 32 hours 22 minutes, now held in Germany. It may be exceeded by at least an hour to be officially established. They will have to stay up till exactly noon tomorrow to break the German record with the required extra hour and a half, 33 1/2 p. m. to establish a new mark of 56 hours.

HUSBAND WON'T WORK; WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Portland, Me., March 29 (AP)—A husband who is said to have declared that he would not work until he died caused Mrs. Ethel W. Durkin of this city to appear in Superior Court today as a suppliant for divorce. The husband, John E. Durkin, offered no contest to her plea.

Mrs. Durkin had an earlier husband who died. She was married twice to Durkin in November, 1912, the two ceremonies being to satisfy their conflicting religious faiths. At that time she had $100 saved, she said, but this had been dissipated by reason of her husband's failure to work.

She told the court that she or members of her family have been procured at least 15 jobs for her husband but he has steadfastly refused to work. Since they were married, she estimated, he had worked a year and a half.

TWO PRIESTS KILLED WITH 99 OTHERS IN MEXICO

Mexico City, March 29 (AP)—Dispatches from Tapachula, Oaxaca, today said 92 insurgents, two Catholic priests, the chief, Ruminco Anaya; two army officers and four soldiers had been killed in the bloodiest battle which had occurred since the insurgents became active.

Forty insurgents were wounded and 47 captured in the fighting which occurred at San Pedro Ranch near San Francisco del Rincon Tuesday and Wednesday.

Held in Child Attack

Accused of attacking a seven-year-old girl, a relative by marriage, Daniel Colari, 25, of Paine st., Weymouth, was held in $200 today for the grand jury when arraigned in New York District Court. Colari pleaded not guilty.

$337,000 IS VOTED FOR HUB TELEPHONE WORK

Expenditures of $1,511,250 for new construction and plant improvements was authorized today at the monthly appropriation meeting of the executive committee of the New England Telephone Telegraph Company. This brings the total authorization for the year to $1,457,500. This month's total includes $337,000 for metropolitan Boston and $500,000 for other parts of Massachusetts. The Greater Boston Items are $12,750 for Belmont, $12,500 for Cambridge, $15,000 for Kenmore, $12,750 for Newton North, $15,000 for West Newton, $12,500 for Arlington, $12,750 for University.

LOMASNEY'S COUSIN BEATEN AND ROBBED

Thomas F. Lomasney, 45, cousin of Martin Lomasney, the Boston politician, was beaten and robbed of $25 and some railroad tickets in the alleyway section of Waltham street before midnight. Lomasney lives on Robinson st., Dorchester, but owns property in Waltham. He was inspecting a structure there to see about repairs and noticed two men watching him. They followed and overtook him on Cedar st. where they robbed him.

Recovering consciousness, Lomasney took a bus to Newton Corners and called a policeman. A policeman found him and took him to a doctor's office.

ROBINSON NAMED FOR FEDERAL RADIO BOARD

Washington, March 29 (INS)—President Coolidge today nominated Ira E. Robinson of Grafton, W. Va., to be a member of the Federal Radio Commission, the life of which was extended until March 15, 1932, this week by Congress. Robinson is an attorney, who has been connected with the Department of Justice here for several years.

NEW RIDING CLUB WILL BE THRONGED APRIL 20-21, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Events Should Be Run Off Smoothly
Under Guidance of Reginald Bird

THE NEW RIDING CLUB'S RING AND GALLERY WERE another Madison Square Garden for size even then every available bit of space would be necessary to accommodate all the amateur riders hereabouts who have expressed a desire to show their mounts. Two evenings, April 20 and 21, are the Horse Show dates. And for enthusiasm and interest, as well as numbers, it promises to far outrun anything Messrs. Reginald Bird et al have staged to date at the New Riding Club. It's an indoor show, to be sure, but it will be as fine a spectacle as either Chestnut Hill or Millwood, and those set a very high standard indeed.

OF COURSE, MR. REGINALD BIRD, RIDING CLUB POTENTATE and owner of Waveney Farm, knows exceedingly well how to arrange and manage shows of enormous proportions. He has done so times without number at the Riding Club and, likewise, at his own Millwood affairs. So things will move smoothly, from the time Class 1 comes into the ring, and the children show their ponies, until Boston's finest traffic squad answers the bugle for Class 18. As a sporting proposition the show is interesting; as a spectacle it promises many a thrill.

IN TEN OF THE CLASSES THE WINGED FOOTED MOUNTS WILL do the jumps. By pairs, singly and in the "touch and go" they'll go sailing over like graceful swallows, these mettlesome creatures which apparently love to show their poise and prance about a show ring with the affections of court beauties. Class 19 is for Hunt teams, and wisely the club show directors insist that Hunt teams shall appear in colors. And this of course always adds a gorgeous bit of radiance to the parade of equine aristocrats and their meticulously gilded riders.

SMALL CHILDREN ATOP TALL HORSES, TAKING THEIR mounts over the jumps with perfect sangfroid, is a sight always thrilling to spectators, especially if those spectators happen to be the fond parents of youthful riders. The junior jumpers class, No. 10 in the list, is for children whose summers do not yet number eighteen. The riding club has many such members in the category. A four foot jump has no terrors for them and they can take it over overpriced feet. Schooling, in the ring and over the jumps, is amply provided for in advance of the show. In fact there's never a detail overlooked when Mr. Bird and his New Riding Club friends put on a show.

PROGRESSION ALONG THE "BENEFIT" LIST BRINGS TO HAND this evening's affair at the Hotel Statler, when Captain C. W. R. Rice gives a motion picture and vocal history of trapping and taming a golden eagle. The captain is still another Britisher to invade our shores, peacefully, via the lecture route. His reception here in town is enthusiastically enthusiastic, and he comes in behalf of the Girls' City Club. And, as locally there is a wide interest in that organization, the Statler's ballroom should be, and probably will be, filled to its very corners.

DEVOTING THE EVENING hours to tennis is something new in sports procedure, but the girls now playing at Longwood seem to perform as excellently under electric as under sunlight. Miss Virginia Rice is one of the promising youngsters. In fact, I've heard the prediction of a future most brilliant for this young player.

LITTLE MISS JOANNA PALFREY is a brilliant young player. She excels at tennis, of course. She couldn't be a Palfrey and not follow the family tradition of tennis. It's hard in the bone of the "Palfrey" class. But little Joanne is not a one-sport creature. Though she plays amazingly well, and some day she may be a champion like Sister Sarah. Also she has the art of figure skating well mastered. She's one of the slender things that swirl and dip, pirouette and glide like swallows over the ice. And having these two arts, it follows in due course that during the aesthetic surri, is one of her graces.

YESTERDAY MISS LYON WEYBURN became officious, with her ceremonial, a Girl Scout official, and so from now on Mrs. Weyburn will ally with her Junior League interests that larger field where the small girl in her khaki uniform is predominant. Mrs. Weyburn's charm and poise and head-symphony seem to specially endow her for young girl leadership—her efforts with the Junior League have proven that most conclusively. Mrs. Weyburn's Scout conference luncheon, Mrs. Arthur W. Hart, Mrs. George L. Burchholder and Miss Louise Burchholder, each one devoted heart and soul to their get togethers.

VIRGINIA RICE

er perhaps not another "Glen Wills" but of national championship caliber, nevertheless, Miss Rice is a charming girl, one who plays tennis persistently and consistently, and who dances with a grace and dash truly professional.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE IS CONTINUED
Though the drive for $750,000 for the building fund of the Y. W. C. A. has officially over with a total subscription of $325,562.50, ardor which has been maintained since the inception of the campaign, will be maintained. The autographed picture of the White House, sent to the Young Women's Christian Association by Mrs. C. W. Dunkler, who reported the total individual amount during the campaign, Mrs. Dunkler brought in a total of $541.
The drive for the drive party prompted by Mayor Nichols to the team beginning in the greatest amount of money is Team 14 or Division "C", of which Mrs. G. W. Dunkler is captain. This team reported a total of $418.
The division reporting the greatest total for the campaign was Division "C", headed by Mrs. John C. Johnston, with a total of $1,716.56.
Many good Girl Scout girls and a few hundred more are offered every day at the Y. W. C. A. drive.

RATA PRESENT IS HEARD IN RECITAL

By MOSES SMITH

Rata Present was heard in a piano recital by a representative audience of full size at Jordan Hall. Her program, which was of a familiar pattern, included a prelude and fugue of Bach, Debussy's sonata, opus 111, a Chopin group, and four numbers by modern composers.

Miss Present was heard with the Paderewski, Schumann, and Liszt, which she played in a first-class rendition of Chopin's sonata, opus 111, a Chopin group, and four numbers by modern composers.

Her Chopin group suffered by being one of the numbers were overplayed. And they were pieces played by getting into in drawing rooms. As a result, Miss Present tended to become, in the listener's mind, a drawing room pianist, who is quite a different matter from a concert pianist. The 60-minute half of Chopin, on the other hand, is a feeling force, worthy, as well, of any program. It was easily played at night, but without the intense sweep of Chopin's conception.

HIGH GOODWILL PARTY REACHES CRISTOBAL

By BERT FORD.

Boston American Staff Correspondent
On Board R. S. Columbus, March 28, via Tropical Radio Telegraph Company—The "Good Will" expedition from the Boston Chamber of Commerce landed at Cristobal, in the Canal Zone, today.

The welcome in Jamaica during our two days' stay was most enthusiastic. A big representative delegation of public officials and business men greeted the party at Kingston.

H. V. Ayers, president of Jamaica Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are honored and overjoyed by your visit, but from noon until 8 o'clock gives us no time adequately to express our recognition of good will."

Vice-President William J. Fortune of Shawmut National Bank, leader of the expedition, said in reply: "If we were to be here a week you could not have crowded in more simply and touching hospitality and in behalf of our good will party I return heartfelt thanks."

A decided commercial tone was given to the welcome when several prominent local business men authorized Mr. Fortune to open a bank and other trade accounts with New England firms.

Officials of Jamaica Chamber of Commerce who lunched with the expedition were: President C. A. Roberts, Vice-President C. A. Roberts, Treasurer, and Mr. J. H. Robertson, secretary.

The Chamber, United Fruit Co., Inc., had already cleared Kingston when the following radio message was received from Panama Association of Commerce: "Heartiest welcome in Panama. Will be delighted to see you at Union Club after your arrival."

The "Good Willers" are still raving about the splendid reception at Jamaica, and memories of the fine trip through the Canal Zone, from Port Antonio to Kingston.

Shops were besieged and postcards were in demand. Many spent their time basking in water with a temperature of 74 degrees. Shots in rapid on bamboo rafts, seven miles down the Rio San Juan, was the major sport at Port Antonio.

James A. Collins, district manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., and his father-in-law, Henry W. Hutchinson, both of New Bedford, and the radio engineer, Arthur C. Gardner of New Bedford, William R. Fairclough of Boston, Mr. Thomas of Boston, Thelma H. Doherty of Maiden postoffice, and others.

have you "YELLOW MASK?"

Look at Your Teeth. Do They Have a Yellowish Hue? Then Here's the Way to Sparkling Whiteness... Guaranteed!

That unbecoming yellowish tint is not in the tooth enamel but in the thin, glossy mask that a "liquid cement" in your saliva has formed over the enamel.

So what dental science has done is to perfect a means of removing that unsightly "Yellow Mask" without harm to the softest enamel. There is a basic substance that does this to perfection. It is known as "Tric-Calcium Phosphate." The leading dentists use it for cleaning and polishing teeth.

But the chief aim of science has been to give you the marvelous benefits of this wonderful "Tric-Calcium Phosphate" for daily use. In a pleasant, tasty tooth paste, so that you could first remove that repellent "Yellow Mask" and secondly, have dazzlingly white teeth forever.

It's been a big job! The most noted scientists have worked on it. But now success has come.

The name of this magic dentifrice is ORPHOS TOOTH PASTE. Dentists everywhere hail it. Prime donors of the movie screen, opera and stage are using it. In less than six months more than a million women and men have abandoned old-fashioned dentifrice for ORPHOS and today it is the whitest and loveliest ever before known.

We want you to try this marvelous ORPHOS tooth paste. Get a tube of the free druglet. Give it a friendly trial, expecting nothing but improvement in the whiteness of your teeth. Look solely for the word "ORPHOS" on the box and get the full purchase price. No need to keep buying—act!

8 TOWNS FIGHT FOREST FLAMES ON CAPE COD

Plymouth, March 28.—The first forest fire in Massachusetts was brought under control today in a triangular tract bounded by Kingston, Carver and Plymouth.

With clouds of smoke overhead and the wind blowing with a promise of rain, the firemen of eight towns, together with the United States National Fire Guard, fought the flames for several hours.

The fire, which started in the town of Sandwich, is now being fought by the firemen of Sandwich, Sandwich Harbor, and Sandwich Neck.

HARRISON LAUDS THOMPSON FOR FLOOD FIGHT

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—A plan to the nation to willingly accept the lower Mississippi river flood was lauded in the House today by Representative Frank R. Harrison, D. Ind., on behalf of a majority of the flood control committee.

A dissenting report of six members was filed, asserting the flood should pay part of the cost of the job, which some engineers have estimated would cost from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.

When the bill was being passed in the Senate last fall, Harrison, D. Ind., said: "I have never seen a more successful campaign. I have expressed my thanks to Mayor Thompson as one who lives in that stricken Mississippi valley for the interest he has taken and the fine services he has rendered."

The majority House report charged Mayor Thompson, chief of army engineers, violated the law in preparing plans for control of Mississippi flood waters, on instructions from the War Department.

The report also charged that the flood control work was "a waste of money" and that the flood control work was "a waste of money."

SEIZE BIG STILL IN ROCKLAND

Rockland, March 28.—Gurgling in a barn 100 ft. long, and 10 ft. wide, early today when police and Deputy Sheriff John Condon swooped down and captured an 800-gallon still in operation.

Two arrests were made. The raiders were headed by Police Chief John F. Sullivan of Rockland. The men arrested, Joseph Buckley and Alvin E. Green, are charged with manufacturing liquor illegally and keeping and exposing it for sale.

According to the police, Buckley was operating the still at the time of the raid. Green occupies the house on the premises.

With the still were seized 100 gallons of alcohol. It took the raiding officers most of the night to dismantle and remove the huge still.

Robins' Queer Infield
Banny Only Veteran
Great Pitching Staff
By Nick Flatley

MIAMI, Fla., March 29.—Uncle Wilbert Robinson, fat manager and president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is what you might call one of baseball's confidence men. For years now he has been taking his mobsters into National League races and generally coming out with quite a lot of applause attached to Uncle Wilbert.

He is snatching into the scrambled affair that seems to be in front in the National League this season with a peculiar troupe. Yet the boys are all figuring him to go places and do things. Robbie has a lineup that is mostly minor league.

Three of his infielders, Bissoneite at first, Riconda at second, and Freigan at third, have been hauled up from the big little fellows and elected regulars. It is a question, naturally as to whether any of these will make good. This is the third time that each has been up in the big show. They are yet without what you might call real experience.

Dave Bancroft is playing short and Dave Nick Flattery, of course, is a great shortstop when he's right. He hasn't been really right for a couple of years and there's no reason to suspect that he will be any better this year. But that infield is being broadcasted as the best that Brooklyn has had since Robbie won the pennant in '20.

The outfield is built along similar lines. Hendricks in left field is questionable, may or may not make good. Tyson and Stutz in center have been in and out and down for quite a stretch. Babe Herman, who failed as a first baseman, is now playing right. He's a real hitter, but a poor catcher. Robbie's pitchers are good, very good, and his catchers are good enough. But that's all he has. From where we sit, the Robins would seem to be in for a tough year. Which didn't stop them making the Braves look like selling platters in the first engagement at Miami. The club may get the idea that it's good and step out. Baseball is that way.

THE GAMES THAT ARE PLAYED IN THE SPRING, TUE. LA. HAVE, THANK GOODNESS, NOTHING TO DO WITH THE AVERAGES THAT COUNT.

The rookie has the fast ball. The arm, and things like that. But once, whenever he throws them, they always hit the bat.

MIAMI, Fla., March 29.—Down here in Miami the sporting editor of the afternoon paper is a chap named Jack Bell. He writes an advice story that fascinates your correspondent that he knows baseball. So we dropped into the office.

Jack has one sleeve, his left, pinned up. It develops that he was a baseball player in these parts for a while but was just going to leave his big league chance when the war came along. He enlisted, went across, and a German shell tore his arm, his left one, so badly that it had to be amputated.

So now Jack instead of pitching big league baseball is typewriting very effectively with his one remaining hand, and doing a mighty fine job of it. He's a pitcher, the apt, ed. of the a. m. after, came over to see Eddie Cunningham, well known here. Ralph wanted passes or something. He came into the a. m.'s room, and gave a wild shout of joy. It didn't seem, but he came out with a lot of papers in the old days on the Worcester Telegram, and had some sort of record of them for 15 years. When he was 15 years old he said that truth is stranger than fiction.

MOST OF THE KID BALL PLAYERS ARE DOING THEIR SPRING TRAINING NOW BACK HOME.

THE fight game is the same the world over. Down here in Miami, a spot which could support one fight organization very luxuriously, there are three clubs. These always catch with, with the promoters always and making and the same glove fencers appearing with monotonous regularity.

The initial call made minor, so then the rest hoped in. Which, of course, is human nature and the main reason that the ring racket falls into such disrepute every so often.

Yankee Sportsmen Back Billy Barton

Liverpool, England, March 29 (AP)—Rope spelled with capitals might be the middle name of several hundred Americans who came 3000 miles to see the crack Yankee steeplechaser Billy Barton perform tomorrow in what is unquestionably the world's biggest gamble in racing—the Grand National Steeplechase.

Billy Barton, owned by Howard Bruce of Baltimore, and (unofficially, owned by Benjamin L. B. of Chicago, are the two American-bred horses entered in the most grueling contest for horseflesh ever conceived by man.

The race, which is to be held at Aintree, Liverpool, on April 1, is one of the most famous in the world. It is a race of endurance and speed, and is one of the most difficult to win.

There are two main groups in the Grand National. One is the American group, and the other is the British group. The American group is headed by Billy Barton, and the British group is headed by the favorite, the horse named "The Great Britain."

CARRIGAN HAS CHANGE TO STEADY FIELDERS

By JOE CASHMAN
Augusta, Ga., March 29.—This is a day of rest for the Red Sox as far as exhibition games are concerned but they will be seen through a stiff four-hour practice session to put them on edge for their series with the Augusta club, the first game of which will be played tomorrow.

Most of today's session will be devoted to fielding drill, something the Hubs athletes need very badly, as their performance in the last game proved.

Four of the five games in the series will be played at night. The Sox are expected to win the series, but for several reasons some of the Sox players are in the only position to win the series.

At present Carrigan isn't working in the field, but is expected to be in the field tomorrow.

Pleasant Relief From CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unhappy pimple. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure. Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 50 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly, so dispense crying. Take slightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. A compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive taste. 25c, 50c, 60c.

Indigestion? Nonsense! said the Specialist

"Nowadays we know that calcium carbonate is the one sure, safe relief for gas, 'burns' and other stomach distress."

Tables of calcium carbonate do not turn and swirl like strong acids so they disturb the normal action of the bowels and other organs. Best of all, they are utterly harmless in any quantity.

Stuart Tablets are an ideal form of calcium carbonate, blended with other soothing substances. That's why we recommend them as safest for children—best for men and women.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest police service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land.
In order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages in Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

"Time Is Money"

As Franklin said 178 Years Before Boston's First Traffic Jam

The number of persons who enter Boston's downtown business district every day is 817,000.
Riding or walking, they lose 10 minutes each because of traffic congestion.

This means, as we have been reminded this week by Professor Miller McClintock of the Erskine Bureau of Harvard, 8,170,000 minutes, the equivalent of 138,000 hours or 17,000 working days.

Estimate the value of each minute at 1 cent and we have a daily monetary loss of $81,700, an annual community burden of $24,510,000!

What Professor McClintock has been giving to Boston in weekly installments are the FACTS discovered by a traffic survey begun last year by the Mayor's Committee. The RECOMMENDATIONS derived from these facts are yet to be presented. What form they may take—traffic control by lights and signals, the construction of over and under passes, the establishment of "express" streets, the urging of new parking arrangements—will appear when the final installment of "traffic facts" has been presented and the complete report is issued by Mayor Nichols in a single comprehensive pamphlet.

The three fundamentals which must be given consideration in the handling of a community automobile problem have been named as Engineering, Education and Enforcement. In Boston, the work of the engineering force is ended. Education must arouse and inform the public. Enforcement will compel the heedless minority to observe safe practices, which the majority will adopt voluntarily.

There is no person in the entire Metropolitan District, as Professor McClintock has said, who is NOT interested in "traffic."

Checking Up

Public Library and Book-Thieves

Two or three days after the startling report is telegraphed across the continent that in a single year 12,000 books were stolen from the Boston Public Library it develops that the facts are not quite what they appeared to be.

The natural first thought of the citizen who read the announcement was that ALL these books had been taken from the library in Copley Square.

The fact is that "Central's" net loss was only 2000 books. The others disappeared from 32 branch libraries.

From all the libraries, central and branch, home circulation rose last year to almost 4,000,000 volumes. The total number of book "handlings"—books consulted but not taken away, books handled in the process of selection—is believed to have been 10,000,000.

The proportion of books stolen, therefore, was but slightly more than 1.10 of 1 per cent.

Bright-colored and distinctive book-covers might be one way to check these losses, but that, perhaps, would "run into money." Another suggestion is that all books on their way from the libraries be checked at desks placed near the exits.

That even ONE book should be stolen from a city as over-generous toward the student as Boston has been is nothing short of shameful. "Built by the people and dedicated to the advancement of learning," the Library cost $2,800,000. It houses a priceless collection of more than 1,000,000 volumes. That hundreds of these before whom these treasures are spread so lavishly should be so utterly without honor and decency as Mr. Belden's report shows them to have been is disheartening.

An ARREST or two, followed by swift and exemplary punishment—of which publicity should be no small part—might put an end to the thieving.

INSANITY PLEAS IN CRIMINAL CASES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

ATTENTION has been called in many recent criminal cases to the validity of the plea of insanity. No one wants to hang an insane man, but still no one wants such a person to escape the consequences of his deeds by pleading insanity as an alibi.

The plea of insanity seems to rest upon the fact that the insane had no sense of right and wrong when he committed his wrongful act. As a matter of fact, however, most persons when they do wrong, seek to justify it, although ordinarily in a very flimsy way, by thinking that it is right.

The robber thinks it is right to take from the rich and give to the poor, after the manner of Robin Hood.

The murderer may think it is right to slay his victim because he thinks said victim needs killing. Whatever the man may think, however, the fact of right and wrong is not to be determined by his decision, but by that of society.

The community at large in every country has decided that it is wrong to take another man's property, or his life, no matter what the perpetrator of the deed may think, and the community has a right to stand by its own convictions.

The plea of the murderer, therefore, that he could not distinguish between right and wrong at the time of his act and was, therefore, insane, should not work to relieve him of the responsibility of his deed.

There are people with no moral sense and no moral nature, as far as we can see, but these people should not be excused from paying the penalty of their wrongful acts.

Particularly if a man can be shown to be sane enough to have carefully laid his plans and to have secretly carried them out until apprehended by the law, he should not be allowed to escape punishment because he said he was insane.

Is not every wrongdoer insane?

Mandlin sentiment for the criminal and an effort to have him escape the penalty of the law because of sentimental reasons would reduce society to the level of an old woman.

We, all of us, should take the consequences of our evil deeds, and judges should be very chary of allowing the plea of insanity to permit us to escape this penalty.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

GLADYS ELLIS is 48 and very unhappy. When Gladys was 18 she was pink, pretty and plucky. So was Gladys' mamma. So was life. Very little speed, tension or pressure in 1910. No automobiles coming down the highways—no taxi cabs or chauffeurs—no registers of girl workers hurrying to offices—no movies—no "vices"—no jangle of phones or hubbaloob of radios. Everything quiet, slow, safe, rather stupid—folks didn't have hurry and couldn't get off to a start to get by in 1910. By the time they were 40 or 45 they "let down and took things easy."

Gladys' mamma was just about as energetic as a contented snail when she was Gladys' age. Did her housework in the morning. Set and cooked on the veranda in the afternoon, gossiped with the neighbors, did a little fancy work. A nice woman, a good woman, but a sluggish woman, mentally and physically. Didn't read a book or have a new idea come in a blue moon.

Everyone liked Gladys' mamma. Everyone and what a fine wife and mother she was. No one dreamed of criticizing her. She didn't have to exert herself in the least to gain this enviable reputation. She simply sat on her shape and let the world go round.

And now Gladys is 48. But Gladys isn't happy and contented and motherly any more. No one dreamed of criticizing her. She didn't have to exert herself in the least to gain this enviable reputation. She simply sat on her shape and let the world go round.

Why should we keep on moving as long as we are alive? Why shouldn't we keep on moving as long as we are alive? Why shouldn't we keep on moving as long as we are alive?

Why should we surrender before our days are half done and let our brains and bodies accumulate dirt? And why should we expect respect and admiration from the younger generation, simply because we have the record crop of hardened actresses and fallen artists?

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

A wise man should have money in his head, but not in his heart.
It is the guilt not the scaffold which constitutes the shame.
Learning is like mercury, one of the most powerful and excellent things in all life; hands in it are the most mischievous.
There are few things reason can do.

New York Day by Day

O.O.M'INTYRE

NEW YORK, March 28.—Broadway will brook no successors. When a popular old place, a substitute is met with a stiffed yawn. It has been tried time after time with the same impossible result. Broadway makes its own heroes and heroines and wants no imitations.

Recently they tried to bring another Florence Mills to the world of cabarets, but the unforgettable memory of that waltz, ducky singer would not be downed. Her partners who have lost their mates time again and try to carry on with the same fidelity.

Broadway's loyalty is at the root that if a performer hits upon an idea that even better the attitude is Moran-and-Maclean. Even if it was good, they wouldn't like it. This answer is personality.

Nobody has been able to imitate personally. It has that indefinable quality that cannot be duplicated. There was a long list of professional dancers who tried to follow at the twinkling capers of the Chastles. Some were superior dancers.

But Vernon was the first of this light-footed glee who occupied a cellar. His fortune would be made. All Latin-American countries have been content for a replica. They have been carefully groomed, but they could not forget. They still want Rudy.

Indeed these efforts seem merely to create a keener longing for the original. In a way it is a heartening attitude for the man or woman who creates and wins plaudits. They need have no fear someone will come along and take their place, on Broadway at least.

AN advertising agency specializing in slogans has turned out one which they hope will reduce the number of suicides jumping from the top of the Empire State.

A LONDON playwright says feminine beauty in America consists of rouge and powder. Well, then, the American woman is a creature of make-up. For instance—black-teeth and adenoids. Georgia Lutz is the latest sign, he.

Camel God's Best Gift

plied: "The camel comes first, because without him we could not live, and therefore could not obey the orders of the Koran."

These monster camels, towering above their owner who controls them with a rope fastened in the nostril, represent the race that has made travel on the desert possible.

Desert wells are ten days' camel journey apart. The camel can go twelve days, in extreme cases as much as nineteen days, without water, and at the same time carry enough water to keep the man alive. But travel over the desert is a constant struggle against sand, heat, and storms and death.

With the wells so far apart the camel must be no delay. If a camel is sick the owner will only wait ONE HOUR for him to recover and start on again.

He will wait TWO hours for a dying man to close his eyes, not more.

Marvelous stories are told of the camel's ability to find water and get back to a well that it has once visited.

An old story relates an argument between a female camel and a "hand groomer," a bird living on the desert.

The bird boasted that it could fly one hundred miles away from its unmarked nest seeking water, and then fly back to its eggs in a straight line. The she-camel replied: "That is nothing. I drink at a well a month before my baby camel is born. Then I wander away many hundreds of miles. And my baby when it is a year old can find its way back to that well."

That is probably exaggeration, but shows the high opinion that Arabs have of their camels.

Today the trip across the desert, that risks the lives of camels and all in the caravan, is made in a short time by high-powered automobiles, with absolute safety, crawling over the sand with "caterpillar tread" carrying heavy burdens and threatening the camel and his driver with extinction. So goes the world progressing.
